Foreign trade zone granted for port area

The Tri-City Regional Port District board announced today that its application to establish a St. Louis metropolitan area Foreign Trade Zone has been approved by the Foreign Trade Zones Board in Washington, D.C.

The Tri-City Port commissioners made the announcement at a press conference late this morning at the Regional Commerce and Growth Association office in St. Louis.

The new Foreign Trade Zone consists of 47 acres in the Tri-City Industrial Center, the Port District's 127-acre industrial park west of Federal Aid Route 151 (Great River Road) and along the Chain of Rocks Canal in Madison County.

"I hope we will be ready to accept our first shipments within six months," Chairman John N. Bellucci said.

"We are negotiating with several firms for operation of the zone, and we plan begin work soon on the construction of a 100,000-square-foot building for public warehousing and private storage and manufacturing.

"The area will be fenced and other U.S. Customs regulations will be complied with."

A foreign trade zone is an enclosed, policed area in a port of entry into which foreign goods may be shipped free of duty.

The product or material may be repacked, assembled, exhibited, used in manufacture or stored without payment of duty.

Import taxes are paid only when the product or material leaves the zone for a destination within this country.

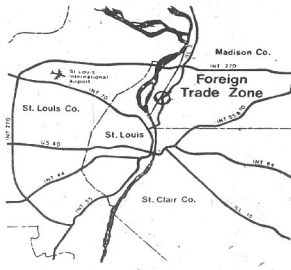

"Establishment of the zone means this region will be able to offer another important service to business and industry."

Harry T. Morley Jr., RCGA president, said. His group assisted the Port District in preparation of the zone application.

"Foreign trade is an increasingly important part of the regional economy," Morley said. "The convenience and savings afforded importers by a duty-free zone have a real appeal to businesses in the two-state region and throughout the Midwest."

Carl Ranft commented today, "The Tri-City site is particularly suitable for a foreign Clinic lawyer says mortality rates low

"Over a million abortions took place last year in the U.S. and there were five deaths. The mortality rate is very low," Attorney Frank Sussman of St. Louis said Thursday.

Representing the Hope Clinic for Women in Granite City, the lawyer stressed that "the mortality rate for having an abortion is still about a tenth of that for having a child."

Mrs. Barbaralee Davis, 18, Cutler, Ill., died to death a few hours after undergoing open surgery at the clinic here. The family has said it plans to file suit.

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron said Thursday he has begun an investigation to study reports filed by the Perry County coroner's office and allegations during a news conference here Aug. 29 by spokesmen for the National Right to Life Committee.

He has assigned one of his investigators to study reports filed by the Perry County coroner's office and allegations during a news conference here Aug. 29 by spokesmen for the National Right to Life Committee.

Clinic officers have not commented other than through a written statement at the inquest.

Sussman is the attorney who defended Dr. Kenneth Edelin, a Boston doctor charged with manslaughter of a fetus in a landmark abortion case. Dr. Edelin was exonerated.

The attorney commented Thursday that "it is, of course, extremely unfortunate that this death (Mrs. Davis) or any death resulted. But abortion, like all surgical procedures or any medical procedure, involves a risk—and a possibility of death."

"This patient, in this procedure, was advised of that. All patients undergoing any surgery are advised of the various risks involved."

In an unrelated development, members of the Madison County Board's Personnel and Central Services committees said they learned for the first time last week that present county governmental health insurance covers abortions.

There has been no such claims, however.

The insurance policy allows up to $500 for an inpatient abortion or miscarriage.

A recent Supreme Court ruling has held that states are not required to use public funds to pay for abortions. An earlier court decision was that lack of maternity and abortion benefits would be discriminatory against women employees.

NEWPORT HOMECOMING Pom-Pon girls perform during the annual homecoming parade through Venice and West Madison Saturday morning. Fire trucks, Shrine units, the Madison High School Band, motorcycle clubs, the NAACP and other organizations had entries in the

Dixon to seek re-election

ALAN J. DIXON

Alan J. Dixon today announced his candidacy for re-election as Illinois secretary of state.

"I want to remain secretary of state to fully implement the exciting programs we have launched," Dixon said. "I firmly believe that secretary of state is the office in which I can best serve the people of Illinois at this time."

The Belleville Democrat was elected secretary of state ten months ago by 1,344,283 votes, the largest plurality of any Democratic candidate in Illinois history. In 1974, Dixon was re-elected state treasurer by 842,218 votes.

In both the 1974 and 1976 elections, Dixon carried 89 counties, a record never surpassed by a state Democrat.

In announcing his candidacy, Dixon said:

"In the last campaign I pledged to implement the driver's photo program, whereby drivers would have their photographs on a laminated driver's license. That program was launched June 17. I pledged to initiate the photo identification program so non-drivers as well could utilize the secretary of state facilities and have a laminated photo identification. This service is provided free to those over 65 years of age and went into effect July 1.

"This year, we passed through legislation—and will put into operation in 1979—issuance of five-year license plates. This program—often talked about but never finalized—will save taxpayers of Illinois $21 million over a five-year period."

"I suggested that for the first time Illinois have staggered registration of automobiles, so motorists would not have to attach their license plates during the three coldest months of the year. After a thorough study in other states, this legislation will be introduced next month."

"I said that if elected I would install a Civil Service System for employees in the secretary of state's office. This measure was signed into law May 24.

"I am running for re-election because I should not and will not turn my back on some of the

Deputy injured

An off-duty Madison County sheriff's deputy, Morie E. Hayden of Mitchell, and a friend, Martin A. Neithardt of Edwardsville, were injured at 1:45 a.m. Monday during a fight in a State Park tavern in which Hayden was disarmed of his service revolver at gun point.

Hayden and Neithardt required treatment of head injuries at St. Elizabeth Hospital here where they received sutures for head wounds. Both were released from the hospital after treatment.

Hayden, 28, of 602 Chouteau Ave. was treated for a cut to the right side of the head, cuts above his right eye and contusions to his lower back and chest. Neithardt had a cut on his head.

Steel capacity less than need

(Fifth of a series)
Steel is a critical raw material for industrial nations, and for nations that wish to industrialize.

Virtually every major sector in an industrial economy—including manufacturing, agriculture, construction, power generation and transportation—depends on capital goods for which steel is a key component.

Thus, the availability of reliable supplies of steel at reasonable prices has been a major concern to every industrial and developing nation. Not surprisingly, therefore, the development of the world economy since 1950 has been accompanied by a rapid expansion in steel production—averaging 5.4 percent per year.

Almost as striking as the rapid increase in total world production has been the shift in the relative share of production among the world's major producing regions.

In 1950, the U.S. clearly dominated the world steel business, accounting for 47 percent, or almost half of total world output, and 57 percent of Free World production.

But following 1950, production grew more rapidly outside the U.S. By 1976, the U.S. produced only about one-fourth of the Free World's steel.

Among Free World steel-producing regions, Japan and the European Economic Community (EEC) were by 1976 approximately equal to the U.S. and both had grown more rapidly.

In many respects, this shift in the relative position of the U.S. since 1950 is not surprising.

At that time, the U.S. was the major source of industrial goods for the Free World, while Japan and Europe were struggling to rebuild their war-damaged industrial structures.

In the period since 1950, one would expect more rapid

Election law compliance in this county is disputed

(25th in a series on politics in Madison County)
How meticulously do politicians in Madison County comply with the letter and spirit of election laws?

It is being pointed out that none of the 16 political committees currently facing legal action is based in this county.

Among the 16 are two that aided former Governor Daniel Walker, the State Board of Elections said last week in listing those failing to file annual reports of contributions and expenditures, due July 31.

Elections Board Chairman Michael Lavelle said the 16 campaign committees must appear at hearings to explain why they didn't file 1976-77 reports. "If they don't respond, we'll ask for immediate court orders requiring compliance," he said last week.

Locations are: Chicago committees of various kinds, 10; Barrington, two; and East St. Louis, Hazel Crest, Skokie and Arlington.

Meanwhile, the same Illinois elections board has indicated that it will have field teams monitor the 1978 primary election in Madison County.

The board last week said it found "five types of irregularities in the November

1976 general balloting: electioneering in some polling places, presence of unauthorized persons, failure of some election judges to report mal functioning voting machines, unlawful interference with poll watchers' right to observe the conduct of the election, and voting with the direct assistance of judges or friends without filling out affidavits for such help.

Hospitals across the nation may find themselves in an impossible financial position if legislation is enacted to place a nine per cent "cap" on yearly cost increases, it was asserted here Friday afternoon.

Meeting with Congressman Melvin Price, St. Elizabeth Hospital administrators and advisory panels voiced fear that a currently strong effort by the present House leadership may result in adoption of President Jimmy Carter's hospital cost containment proposal.

Putting a "lid" on hospital charges—the revenue that such institutions can collect—cannot work if the costs encountered by hospitals are not also limited by federal order, the veteran legislator was told. He agreed to study the issue.

Price was praised for long devotion to health care needs in the Quad-Cities.

While St. Elizabeth Hospital has an active cost control program, there are many supplies—such as food—over which it has little or no control of the cost, it was pointed out.

Participants in the discussion included C. E. Blankenship, a member of laymen's committees at the hospital, Sister Mary Thomas, president of St. Elizabeth, and Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., president of the Illinois State Medical Society.

Miss Linda Bonatt and Kelly L. Bowen are wed

Bouquets of orange gladiolus and rainbow color pom poms, placed on white Gothic columns antiqued gold and burning tapers in matching candelabra decorated the sanctuary of the First United Presbyterian Church in Madison, for the wedding on Aug. 27 of Miss Linda M. Bonatt and Kelly L. Bowen.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Eleanor M. Bonatt, 3223 John Glenn Drive, Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowen, reside in West Plains, Mo.

Preceding the ceremony Thomas Wilkerson, organist, played The Lord's Prayer, "We've Only Just Begun," "A Time For Us" and "What the World Needs Now."

The Rev. Charlotte Hotopp Zackery officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her uncle, Walter "Mick" Strange, the bride wore a full length white nylon organza gown fashioned with an Empire bodice and round neckline traced with a Venise lace trim.

Lace floral motifs were applied on the front of the gown and A-line skirt. The appliques were repeated on the softly flowing sheer cape, designed with a high neckline, and was tapered from the high rise waistline to fall gently to the back hemline.

She also wore a fluted brim picture hat and she held an arrangement of yellow roses and sprengeri greenery in the form of a cross, centered with a white cattleya orchid.

Honor attendant Linda M. Mathews and bridesmaids Mrs. Phyllis Hensley and Mrs. Priscilla J. Matthews, a cousin of the bride, selected identically styled gowns in mint green, yellow and apricot hues.

The dresses were created with halter bodices, crescent waistlines, V-necklines and A-line skirts and were complemented with floral print chiffon capes.

Each attendant wore a wide brim hat and carried wicker baskets of silk daisies, and Sweetheart roses in pastel shades, festooned with ribbons to match their attire.

Jennifer L. Benoit served as junior bridesmaid. She wore a pink polyester frock similar to the adult attendants and she also held a basket of blossoms.

The groom chose his brother, Don Bowen, as best man. Norman Burgess Jr. and Steve Bowen, another brother of the groom, served as groomsmen and ushers. Kurt Mirth was the junior groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bonatt chose a formal length yellow sleeveless gown featuring a round neckline accented with a sequin trim and worn with a long sleeved chiffon capelet.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Bowen, selected a blue double knit floor length dress accented with a white lace trim on the yoke and sleeves.

Both mothers wore corsages of yellow Sweetheart roses.

Miss Elizabeth Schieffer attended the guest book at a reception held at the church following the service. Assisting at the reception were Misses Merri and Cheryl Mirth and Angela Mott.

After the church rehearsal a 1975 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, with a bachelor of science degree in nursing. She is now employed as a registered nurse on the surgical unit at St. Joseph Hospital, Alton. The bride is also a member of Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, the Illinois Nurses Association and the American Nurses Association. The groom is a 1961 graduate of West Plains High School (Mo.), and served three years with the U.S. Navy. He now works for Illinois Bell and belongs to Masonic Lodge 877 and the Low 12 Club.

Feeney-Marcum wedding at St. Elizabeth Church

Miss Sherrie L. Marcum of Granite City, and Timothy M. Feeney of Bettendorf, Iowa, were united in marriage at 2 p.m. on July 2 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Father Kenneth J. Becker performed the double ring ceremony, before an altar decorated with bouquets of yellow daisies, carnations and pink baby's breath.

Organist Jeff Sherman accompanied Linda Bennett as she sang, The Lord's Prayer, "My Sweet Lady" and "The Wedding Song."

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marcum, reside at 1403 West Pontoon Road. The groom is a son of Mrs. Gran B. Feeney of Davenport, Iowa, and the late Robert G. Feeney.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Marcum chose a gown designed with a Chantilly lace bodice, Empire waist and Sweetheart neckline, trimmed in Venise lace.

Venise lace also enhanced the long full sleeves and A-line silk organza skirt which extended into a cathedral length train.

She wore a Juliet cap to secure a fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of pink carnations, white daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Susan Anderson, the bride's matron of honor and the bridesmaids included Nannette and Kaye Marcum, sisters of the bride, Robin Scarborough and Linda Bennett.

They wore polyester gowns in green, yellow, pink, blue and melon colors fashioned with molded bodices, V-necklines and full skirts encircled with gathered flounces, accented with white Venise lace.

Each held a bouquet of pastel daisies and variegated foliage. Kelle Marcum, another sister of the bride, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a gown created with a white sleeveless bodice and tiered skirt in the pastel colors of the wedding and she held a basket of daisies, baby's breath and carnations.

A reception was held at the VFW Hall and the rehearsal dinner was served at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Marcum selected a formal length pink Qiana gown and the groom's mother, Mrs. Feeney, was attired in a navy blue and white polka dot dress.

Both mothers wore pink cymidium orchid wristlet corsages.

Both young people attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The bride graduated from North High School and the groom is a graduate of North Scott High School.

They are now residing in Bettendorf, Iowa.

Jobless level in area still 6.2%

Madison-St. Clair Counties jobless remained at 6.2 per cent last month, federal statistics showed Friday.

Illinois unemployment increased slightly in August to 5.1 per cent, a change of one-tenth of a percentage point.

Springfield unemployment dropped from 5.1 per cent in July to 4.9 per cent in August, staying under state and federal levels.

Other urban areas enjoying a drop in unemployment were Bloomington-Normal, falling from four per cent to 3.8 per cent, and Champaign-Urbana, same figures.

In Rockford, where an auto manufacturing plant laid off workers, unemployment rose from 5.4 to 6.5 per cent.

Decatur unemployment rose from 6.5 per cent to 6.9 per cent in August when Primary Metal Industries laid off employees.

In the six-county Chicago metropolitan area, unemployment rose slightly to 4.7 per cent, as it did in Peoria, where unemployment was 5.1 per cent.

The Illinois portion of the St. Louis metropolitan area continues at its same rate of unemployment.

William Bowling, state director of Labor, predicted Illinois employment will rise in future months.

Small girls in prank calls to GC firemen

Two girls, 13 and 14 years old, were taken to police headquarters for questioning Saturday morning after they allegedly made a series of prank calls to the Granite City Fire Department.

Firemen told police they received a number of calls from apparently small girls who would laugh, joke and then hang up the phone. On one occasion a call came for a fire truck to be sent to the 170 block of Cleveland Boulevard, but firemen recognized the voice and did not respond.

Later, firemen obtained identification of one of the girls and police warned her to discontinue the practice. The calls continued, however, and police took the girls to the police station where they later were released to their parents pending action by juvenile authorities.

Hearing on improvement of housing

"While we are distressed, we feel the general work climate will stabilize soon," said Bowling.

The percentage translate to 261,600 persons unemployed in August in Illinois, 150,500 of them in Chicago.

Nationally, unemployment among blacks hit a record level during the month, pushing the overall jobless rate from 6.9 to 7.1 per cent and fueling further attacks on President Carter's economic policies by black leaders.

Black unemployment accounted for the entire 0.2 per cent rise in the jobless rate, the U.S. Labor Department reported Friday.

The 14.5 per cent black unemployment rate matched a post-World War II high reached in the depths of the recession, in September 1975.

An Urban League spokesman said the unemployment figures "have tragic implications not only for black and other minority people but for the nation as a whole."

Four out of every 10 black teenagers are out of work.

The Illinois portion of the St. Louis metropolitan area continues at its same rate of unemployment.

Jobs total 90,800,000, up 210,000, but there were 390,000 new applicants.

Driver injured, faces 2 charges

Stanley Rutkowski Jr., 2316 Dwight Place, sustained a head injury and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, following a one-car accident at 11:20 p.m. Thursday on Nameeki Road at East 23rd St.

Police said Rutkowski, 19, was driving his 1977 Ford south on Nameeki Road when he applied the brakes and skidded through the 23rd Street intersection, striking the center median and signs at the Farmer's Market, coming to a halt on a sign pole.

Rutkowski was charged with reckless driving and a traffic light violation. He is to appear for a hearing Sept. 12.

In the accident, the man struck his head on the windshield and suffered abrasions to the forehead. He was admitted for observation.

Whooping cough immunization suggested for those under 6

Twenty-eight cases of whooping cough in East St. Louis are said to constitute a "pre-epidemic stage."

Vaccinations are being recommended in the St. Louis metropolitan area for children under six years old who haven't immunized, especially those under one year of age.

Children are immune from most diseases until they are about a year old, but in the case of whooping cough immunization is needed immediately, authorities point out.

Most have received immunization — about 90 per cent of school children and 62 per cent of pre-schoolers nationally.

One suspected case has been reported in St. Louis County, and there are four probable cases in the Alton-Wood River area of Madison County.

The apparent Illinois list of whooping cough cases has reached 38, compared to 24 statewide last year.

The illness often includes an irritating cough for two weeks, followed by rapid coughing, a rasping sound when inhaling and occasional vomiting for four to six weeks, and then a convalescent period lasting two weeks.

Also known as pertussis, whooping cough immunization is part of the DPT vaccine, which also prevents, diphtheria and tetanus.

East St. Louis patients range from one month to six years, and Alton area cases range up to two and a half years.

Over 300 East St. Louis youngsters were immunized Thursday by the East Side Health District.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy (Gornik) Campbell; and three sons, James L. Campbell of Wood River, and William R. and Kenneth W. Campbell, both of Collinsville.

Services are pending at a Collinsville funeral home.

Drastic election changes possible

School board elections will be switched to November if legislation pending on Gov. James Thompson's desk is signed into law.

The bill is designed to consolidate elections so citizens will be asked to vote a maximum of five times during a two-year period.

The election code is confusing, but from talking to several persons familiar with the legislation we think the bill would apply in several ways.

First, the terms of some of the present members of the School Board would be either extended or shortened. They are currently elected in April or three-year terms.

Under the legislation, they would be elected in November of odd-numbered years, so their terms would have to be for either two or four years.

Perhaps of more importance to school officials are the limitations on a referendum. No longer could school officials attempt to raise taxes by holding a referendum on some off-day, hoping for a low turnout.

Under the legislation, a referendum would have to be held on one of the five election days during the two-year period.

In addition, the jurisdiction for the administration of the school election would change from the school boards to the county clerks.

The school elections would be held at the same polling places as the general election, and not a nearby school, as is often now the case.

Members of Park District

boards would likewise be affected by changes in their terms.

Local officials across the state are opposed to the legislation because it would take election powers away from the local clerks and give it to the county clerks. It would also change some of their terms.

Thus, the Illinois Municipal League is lobbying strenuously for the governor to veto the bill.

One reason they are working against it is because there was an error in the drafting of the bill — some mayors would have their terms cut in half.

Thompson, if he wants to sign the legislation, could use his amendatory veto power to overcome some of the objections raised by the opponents.

Are your temporarily idle dollars working for you—or are they just lying there gathering dust instead of interest?

Many Quad-City businesses maintain both checking and savings accounts at First Bank.

They transfer money in excess of immediate business needs from checking to savings. Business savings dollars earn the highest guaranteed interest rate allowed by Federal law—from date of deposit to date of withdrawal.

Then, when necessary, they transfer funds from savings back to checking without loss of earnings so long as a minimum savings balance of $10 is maintained.

If you wish, transfers of $1,000 or more may be made by telephone.

Of course, your business deposits are insured completely separate and apart from your personal accounts by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Chouteau town hall dedication Oct. 9

Plans are proceeding for a gala dedication of the new Chouteau Township town hall and community center building on Sunday, Oct. 9.

The Joey James Orchestra was engaged last week to play at the ceremony and invitations are being readied for the event. A program booklet also is being planned.

Tentative plans call for the dedication to begin with a social period from 1 to 2 p.m. Oct. 9, during which the orchestra will play.

The dedication ceremony will begin at 2 p.m., lasting about one hour. Guests then will tour the building and be served refreshments until 5:30 p.m. The orchestra also will play after the formal dedication ceremony.

A metal plaque bearing the names of persons and firms which donated $25 or more to help furnish the building will be unveiled during the ceremony. Persons who pledged donations are being requested to honor the donations as soon as possible to assure that their names will be on the plaque. Betty Lavelle, chairman of the township's Bicentennial Committee, noted.

The Chouteau Town Board of Auditors has agreed to pay the band $250 for the engagement. The $358 plaque already is being prepared and prices are being sought on printing of the invitations and programs.

About 200 formal invitations will be mailed to legislators and officials, but the event will be open to the public.

The contractors on building the final touches on the building in preparation for the ceremony. Work yet to be done includes caulking a door where water ran in during recent heavy rains, causing a gap between set of double doors to the community center area.

completing the tiling of the restrooms, replacing a faulty switch to the floodlights for the band area, and securing loose gravel outside of the building which has been washing away. It also is hoped the parking lot can be paved and a light installed in the parking area prior to the dedication, officials said.

Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks noted all but $4,800 of the construction cost has been paid to the various contractors and that sum is being withheld until the remaining work is completed.

Payments to the contractors have totaled $22,029, thus far, all from federal revenue sharing and community development funds at no direct township tax cost to Chouteau Township residents.

Community Development has paid $123,508 of the cost and revenue sharing $76,520, thus far.

Payments have been made totaling $145,178 to Wilson Construction of Godfrey, $18,841 to Spiff Heating and Air Conditioning, $18,420 to Wagner Electric, $11,000 to Modern Heating and Plumbing, and $16,289 to John Rapp, architect of the building, Sparks reported.

Surprise lilies produce handsome pink bouquets

By WAYNE B. SIEPERT
Area Horticulture Advisor

Surprise lilies as I know them produce handsome bouquets of pink flowers in August. The surprise part is that there aren't any leaves.

Surprise lilies are a species of hardy amaryllis, known in catalogs as Lycoris. The pink flowered Lycoris, known as Surprise Lily, is well adapted for this area and soon produces a large colony of bulbs.

Each spring the bulbs develop a crown of strap-shaped leaves that mature and disappear by early summer. Soon after there appears a flower shoot, nearly two feet tall without leaves, that produces a bouquet of pink, lily-like flowers. The late-season appearance and delightful fragrance of a nice touch of color to any garden.

Lycoris bulbs should be transplanted in early fall. New bulbs should be planted four inches deep and spaced 10-12 inches apart to produce a clump.

effect, instead of a row. Lycoris will thrive in partial shade or full sun, and can be naturalized in woodlands.

In gardens, the starkness of the flower stalks with their need the companionship of other plants.

Pink surprise lilies are known in catalogs as Lycoris. The pink flowered Lycoris, known as Surprise Lily, is well adapted for this area and soon produces a large colony of bulbs.

Plastic resin strips containing 20 percent dichlorvos (DDVP) are still the best fly soother there is for indoor control of flies and mosquitoes. Whether you are a camper or just pestered by an occasional mosquito or curious house fly, you can have peace of mind by hanging one strip per 1,000 cubic feet of space. The strips will kill mosquitoes and flies for several weeks.

Do not use DDVP strips in rooms where infants or ill or aged persons are confined.

Bus age here cut from 14 to 3 years since '73

An era in St. Louis metropolitan area transit ended last week and few people mourned as the last of the "old" buses in the Bi-State Development Agency fleet was retired.

The newest vehicles, some of which had served area residents for nearly a quarter of a century, were removed from service with the delivery of 70 new 31-foot transit coaches, ordered during the Bi-State chairmanship of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

The updated Bi-State fleet is now one of the most modern in the nation, with an average vehicle age of slightly more than three years. In 1973, the average age of all Bi-State vehicles was more than 14 years.

The newest buses are four feet shorter than other Bi-State vehicles and carry 33 "passenger" seats.

"Kneeling" device which permits the operator to lower the front end to permit easier boarding by elderly or handicapped persons, or small children.

More experimental, color-coordinated seating made of fiberglass is in half the buses.

and padded vinyl in the others.

A new sign over the right windshield reading "Stop Requested" is connected to the signal strips beside all seats.

The 31-foot buses are being used on less heavily traveled lines, in non-rush hours on major lines, and on routes where narrow streets require greater maneuverability.

The old look buses, distinguished by their smaller, square-shaped windows, were mainstays of St. Louis area transit beginning in 1941, two years after they went into production at General Motors.

Approximately 28,000 of the vehicles were produced beginning in 1939 and continuing into 1959, the first year that newer buses, locally dubbed "Crystaliners," were introduced.

Most of the last of the "old look" buses operated by Bi-State were 50-passenger vehicles known as "king-size" buses because of their 102-inch wheelbase, locally dubbed "Crystaliners," were introduced.

They featured the first air-conditioners to be used on transit vehicles anywhere in the nation, with the cooling units designed and installed in the main shops of the old St. Louis Public Service Co. They also boasted another passenger-pleasing feature, air suspension.

Retirement of the older buses were accelerated beginning in 1973 when Bi-State took delivery of 240 new buses produced jointly by American Motors and General Motors.

This year, 383 additional vehicles have been or are being delivered, including the new 31-foot buses now entering service.

"The older buses served us well, considering their age, and their longevity is a tribute to the ceaseless efforts of our maintenance forces," Executive Director Robert J. Baer said at the retirement of the last old look bus, Number 2794, and on his final day with the agency.

"Their replacement should considerably improve overall fleet reliability, particularly on morning and afternoon rush-hour trips, relatively brief periods of operation to which the older buses had been primarily assigned in their final months."

The surplus buses are being sold by sealed competitive bid, and most will probably be scrapped.

ZONING HEARING
The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an on-site public hearing at 10:30 a.m. Friday on Terry Street in Eagle Park Acres, an R-4 single-family residential district of Venice Township, where Beanie Scruggs and Beauty Finley are requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home.

have included the hiring of an elderly-handicapped planning specialist to coordinate the services, provision of "cortesy seating" for the elderly and handicapped aboard all buses, and construction of the first of a planned total of more than 1,200 passenger shelters in the two-state service area. Copies of new timetables for the lines offering wheelchair-lift service may be obtained from Bi-State at (314) 771-2230.

Regular wheelchair bus runs here first in U.S.

Ninety-two persons took advantage of Bi-State Development Agency's new wheelchair lift-equipped bus service during its first 17 days of operation. Bi-State initiated the first "totally accessible" regular bus service in the nation Aug. 15, using 60 new transit coaches equipped with wider front steps which can be converted into a wheelchair lift, and with two wheelchair securement areas at the front of the bus. The service is offered on designated trips of the Alta Sita, Belleville-St. Louis, Carondelet, City Limits-Berkeley, Delmar-Forsythe, Forest Park, Grand, McKinley Bridge (Quad-Cities), Natural Bridge and Kingshighway lines. During the first 17 days of the new operation, 26 wheelchair-bound persons rode the Forest Park line, while 16 sampled the new transit service aboard Alta Sita buses, Baer said. Fifteen wheelchair passengers were carried by the Carondelet line, 14 on Kingshighway and eight on the Belleville-St. Louis route. Minor mechanical problems were experienced during the early stages of the program. However, over 92 per cent of the specially-designed trips were operated as planned with the new lift equipment, standard buses being substituted on the remaining trips. Wheelchair-lift bus frequency will be increased on the 10 lines and service will be expanded to seven others later this year with the delivery of 97 additional lift-equipped buses now on order. The fully accessible regular-line bus service is a key component of a 10-point program announced by Bi-State to better serve elderly or handicapped riders. In October 1976, fares were reduced to 15 cents during rush hours and 10 cents at all other times for senior citizens and persons with mental or physical handicaps who obtain a special Bi-State identification card. Combine 'root beliefs' with new approaches—Dr. Shaw Holding true to America's root beliefs while seeking new options and opportunities was stressed during a commencement address to 1,046 summer graduates of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Thursday evening by University President Kenneth A. Shaw. He said, "Many of the virtues of the past just don't fairly confront the changing realities of the present. While holding faithful to our root beliefs, we also must seek new options and opportunities and deal with the worst danger—the unknown." Dr. Shaw added that some "drastic and ominous obstacles seem to pop up at every fork in the road ahead" for the graduates.

He told them that old assumptions about an inexhaustible energy supply—and that "growth is good"—no longer necessarily hold true in today's world.

"Now we know that there are limits to what our world support systems can handle," the university president said. Other basic beliefs such as social role and images of men and women are also changing. "Our sense of self can no longer be simply based in masculine or feminine terms," he said.

"If we can focus the value of our personal dignity in fully human terms, we will all be the richer for it. But realizations in this area are not going to come easily."

"America's traditional belief that all problems can be dealt with if approached with positive good will is giving way to an increasing cynicism and crisis of confidence."

"Matters such as poverty, racism, international tensions and human rights run deeper than we imagined. Good wishes are not enough."

"An attitude of give and take must dominate our dealings with such concerns. And we may find ourselves doing more giving than taking if we are going to find the genuine peace and harmony we all yearn for."

In a lighter vein, President Shaw quipped, "With all this in mind, one might come to the conclusion that you would be better served if the university presented you with tranquilizers rather than something so ephemeral as a diploma.

"But I am not here to counsel despair. You do have a good life to look forward to."

"In fact, if you make the most of the challenges you will have to face, you will reach new levels of personal maturity, and the society in which you will be active will be stronger and more solid, too."

"You have fulfilled one of Thomas Jefferson's wisest dreams. You are now part of that natural aristocracy that he claimed would be produced by education," Dr. Shaw said. "You are better prepared than the general majority of those in your age group to deal with the pressing facts of change."

"Traditionally, aristocracies existed to lead. From you must come the new leadership in which we can all have faith, a confidence now that can only be earned by performance."

He charged the graduates to have courage to accept occasional failure since "nobody wins them all," and to remember that a commencement is really a beginning.

He added that they must be willing to continue to learn—and to learn how to listen—because "usually we drive ourselves into all manner of misunderstandings when we don't try to appreciate the value of what others have to say."

He said the education the new graduates have received has not been exclusively for their own personal good. "The taxpayers of Illinois did not build this University just so you could become a howling private success. What is given here is given in trust."

"It is a social transaction, with public responsibilities. Our commitment to the welfare of our fellow man cannot rest with a contribution to the United Fund."

"To sum up," he said, "the charge I have given you demands the courage to fail. It invites you to keep learning and growing. It warns you of the danger inherent in not listening carefully to others. And it enjoins you to a commitment to social welfare and positive change."

"Today is the first step into a new future. Taking care of today will in great measure shape the course of tomorrow. If you pledge to this good beginning your very best determinations for the future, the days to come will bring the finest of fulfillment."

North, South have good soccer weekend

Steelers beat Quincy 1-0; South waltzes

For both Granite City High Schools it was a productive weekend, soccer-wise. But for one it was a little more productive than the other.

Granite City High School South racked up its second straight victory of the young season without allowing a goal enroute to an 11-0 blasting of Springfield South East High Saturday at Son's field.

Both schools (North and South) are undefeated, by virtue of South's two victories and North's 1-0 win over Quincy Senior High Saturday afternoon at North.

South Coach Gene Baker said he was pleased with his team's play, but that it's hard to interpret such a game.

"In a game like this, it's hard to see exactly what you need to work on," he said. "But I was very happy with the play of a few particular players."

The Warriors' Greg Feigl was almost too much for the Springfield team to handle Saturday. He scored five goals—three in the second half—to help the cause.

"Greg's going real well," said Baker. "It's especially good to see because of Dave Goldschmidt's absence." The high-scoring Goldschmidt is out for at least the first three games with a knee injury.

ANOTHER PLAYER who caught the coach's eye was senior Mike Marler.

"Mike played a good game," said Baker. "He scored a goal (South's last) and has a lot of potential."

With his size (6-foot-two and 200 pounds), he could help us out this year."

Feigl opened the scoring for South at 10:50 of the first half. Mark Goldschmidt added CONVERGING on the ball is Granite City South's Gary Phelps and a host of Springfield Southeast players. Phelps had one assist in the game as South won its second straight, 11-0, on Saturday.

another goal at 23:56 to make the margin 2-0. The halftime score was made 3-0 with Feigl's second goal at 30:09.

Feigl scored the first two goals of the second half, at 5:31 and at 10:58. Freshman standout David Fernandez scored his first goal of the game and second of the season at 20:54.

Feigl's fifth—and last—goal came at 22:76 to make the score 7-0. Jack Burnett got into the act with two successive goals at 25:40 and at 34:11 to make it 9-0.

David Fernandez made it 10-0 on a goal at 35:34 and Marler scored at 37:45 to make the final margin 11-0.

NORTH'S GAME WAS THE EXACT OPPOSITE OF South's. In fact, Steeler Coach Bob Kehoe could have stood it being a little more of a runaway. Sophomore Bob Baley scored with only 56 seconds remaining in the game to break a scoreless tie and give North the win in its first game of the season. The goal came on an assist from Jeff DeMott. Even though the Steelers won the game, Kehoe wasn't pleased with his team's play.

"I think we were too tight," he said. "There was a lot of nervousness, and the pass work wasn't there."

Kehoe said his team started out well—the first five minutes or so—but then dropped into playing Quincy's style of game.

"We were playing their game," he said. "Which made things a lot more hectic out there."

There were some bright spots for Kehoe's soccer team. "I was pleased with the play of Mike Robertson and John Keelias (sophomores), Jim Goodyear and Mike Hall (seniors)," said Kehoe.

What could be the reason for the nervousness? "I hope it was just first-game jitters," Kehoe said.

"It might be the young overall age of our team, but a lot of our sophomores played quite a bit last year." Kehoe said there is one definite point that must be worked on. "I have to get the guys to concentrate out there and follow the game plan."

The Steelers will have to concentrate all they can this weekend. They host two Chicago-area schools Friday and Saturday. They play Morton West at 3:30 Friday and Gordon Tech at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Those Chicago teams from inner-city play a more physical game, while the suburban schools rely on a little more finesse."

But before the Steelers can think about the two Chicago schools, they have a game today to worry about. They play St. Dominic of St. Charles, Mo., at the North field at 4 this afternoon.

South also has a game today, hosting Belleville West at 5:15 p.m.

Four Granite City men will contribute their talents to the top-rated Belleville Area College soccer team this fall. Granite City South grade Mike Voegelé and Mike Austin will play back and midfield respectively, and Tony Carden and Jim Louis of Granite City North will play midfield and forward positions for the Dutchmen.

Voegelé, a three year let-

Carden, who was voted most valuable soccer player for 1976 at Granite City North, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Carden, 3904 Gaslight Walk. Louis' parents are Mr. and Mrs. James C. Louis Sr., 2355 Pontoon Road.

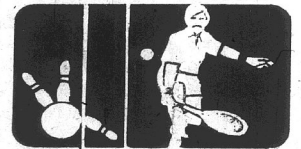

The first BAC Dutchmen action of the season will be Saturday, Sept. 10, when they take on the alumni at 1 p.m. Regularly scheduled intercollegiate competition will begin Sept. 13 against the Quincy College junior Varsity.

That game is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. in Quincy. Area fans will see the Dutchmen soccer team in action on their home field against Lincoln Land Community College (Springfield) on Sept. 29 at 3 p.m.

South finishes second in Alton Top 10 meet

Mike Baker won the battle Friday, but Granite City South won the war. Baker, Granite City North's star cross-country runner, took Top Ten Meet, but his team finished fourth.

Granite City South placed second behind a strong Belleville West team, which won the meet with 185 points; South had 240.

The host school Alton took third with 250 with North fourth with 288.

Edwardsville entered a team but had only nine runners and therefore did not qualify for scoring.

For South, Dave Taylor was the highest finisher, placing fourth overall. Dave Houston was seventh, Tim Meagher 11th and Jim DeMont 14th.

For North, besides Baker's first-place finish, Greg Stout placed third. No other Steeler placed in the top ten.

South's next meet is tomorrow (Sept. 7) at the St. Paul (Highland) Invitational.

North is busy preparing to host the Granite City North Invitational meet next Saturday (Sept. 10). Many strong cross country schools are entered in the meet. It will begin at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

For the Raiders, it was a Labor Day weekend. They came out of the losers' bracket Sunday to take two straight games from Midtown 8A, the winners' bracket representative, to win in the Granite City Park District men's Labor Day softball tournament.

The Raiders had to play three games on Sunday and win all three. They did. They beat the Tri-City Merchants 9-2 in their first game Sunday to put them into the championship game—or games—against Midtown. The Raiders had to beat Midtown twice in a row... Midtown had only to win one game to win the tournament. The Raiders smashed Midtown 23-5 in the first meeting to dash any hopes that the foe might have had of taking it in one game. The championship game was much closer, but the outcome was the same. The Raiders beat Midtown 8-7 to win title in the Labor Day Tournament.

The Tri-City Merchants finished third in the tourney, losing out in their semifinal game to the Raiders. McDonald's captured fourth.

VFW wins women's tourney

Sedlack Funeral Home's women's softball team won two out three games Sunday in the Granite City Park District Labor Day tournament. But it wasn't enough.

Coming out of the losers' bracket, Sedlack lost to VFW Post 1300 by 11-4 in the championship game of the tourney.

Kim Kleinschmidt was the winning pitcher in the title game. Pat Lindsay won both of Sedlack's games.

Sedlack players started off the day with an 11-9 win over Clean Craft Cleaners. They then defeated the Mitchell Athletic Club Merchants by an identical score of 11-9 to put them into the title game.

GC teacher wins golf tournament

Terry Tessary, a teacher at Granite City High School North, shot a two-under-par 66 to win the third annual St. Louis Amateur Classic golf tournament Monday at St. Andrews, near St. Charles, Mo.

Tessary finished at 208 in the 54-hole tournament, five shots ahead of second-day leader Jeff Whitfield and Carson Orr in the championship flight "competition."

Although the golfer whacked his tee shot into a tree just a few yards in front of the first tee, Tessary came back to shoot 66 after rain had delayed Monday's play for almost two hours. The local man, 29, had tied for third in the 1976 edition of the classic and won the St. Louis Metro Amateur in July. He received a large trophy and a $250 gift certificate following yesterday's round.

South's golfers: They could be surprising

WARRIOR GOLFER, Greg Mulach smacks one out of the bunker during a practice round at Arlington Golf Club here on Thursday. Granite City South is entered in its second match of the season today, hosting Belleville East.

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
"I guess you could say that we're rebuilding," said Granite City High School South golf coach Boone Chaney. What Chaney could have said was that he has a young team. The fact is that South has only five seniors out of 16 team members. But that doesn't worry Chaney at all. "We've had some trouble getting very many guys to go out for golf the past couple of seasons," he said. "But this year I've had several seniors who have walked on, and said they wanted to play." "I asked them where they've been all this time." Chaney is in an awkward position for a head coach at any high school. He doesn't teach at South. He's a math teacher at Grigsby Junior High School. It does cause a few problems. "It's difficult to correlate a golf program at South from Grigsby," he said. "For example, we actually have to waste about 30 minutes of practice time because they (the team) get out of school about an hour before I do at Grigsby." "Then I have to drive to South, lead the guys in a van, and go out to practice (at Arlington Golf Club)." HOW did Chaney get the job? "I just pilt in an application for it, and, lo and behold, I got the job." Chaney, a native of Fairfield, Ill., has taught in the Granite City District for 10 years. His wife is a first grade teacher in Collinsville. As for this year's team, Chaney thinks it may surprise a few people. "We aren't a superpower," he said. "But if we can get it all together, we may sneak up on a few people." Chaney says that Ben Brown, a senior, is possibly the most outstanding player on the team. "He's been playing for a long time and can really be tough when he gets it going his way." Another senior who could be a darkhorse this season is Kevin Romine, a freshman. He shot a 41 last Wednesday in the triangular meet with Highland and Granite City North at Highland. That was good enough to put him in second place individually behind North's Mike Cella, who shot a 40. "Herman 'Dutch' Schroeder will be another boy who'll help us out a lot this season," said Chaney. "He's coming along well."

HOW ABOUT the competition in the area as second-year coach Chaney sees it? "Both Belleville East and West will be tough again this year... they're always hard to beat." "Edwardsville is also a good club... and don't forget about North," he added. "They have a fine team and some good players." "Golf is such an individual game," said Chaney. "It's not like in some other sports when, if a coach sees something wrong, it's easy to correct... or at least tell the kid what he's doing wrong." "But in golf, the mental attitude is so important. If a student doesn't have good concentration, it doesn't matter how good his swing is."

"We have two freshmen who, if they stay with it and work hard, could turn into very good golfers," Chaney said. "Both Rich Sharp and Todd Burns are serious about their game and work hard." Coach Chaney said that often he'll go out and play nine holes with the team during practice. "But many times I think it makes them nervous, so I leave them alone some days." Chaney has scheduled 21 matches for his team this season. The next one is today when the squad hosts Belleville East at Arlington at 4 p.m. "One thing that's going to be hard this year," he added, "is that our final match is on Oct. 12, the district tournament is on the 13th, and the sectional is just five days away on the 16th." "It sort of crowds us a little to prepare for each of those events." But that's a long way off right now for Coach Chaney and the Warrior golf squad. Right now, the golfers have Belleville East to worry about.

North golfers drop to 3-1

The Granite City High School North Steeler golf team lost its first match of the season Thursday to Alton High, 154 to 162 at Rock Springs Course near Alton. The match was originally scheduled for the Arlington Course but was changed to the Alton course. Senior Dan Harper led the Steeler golfers with a 39. Also with a 39 and tied with Harper was Scott Robertson. The second two golfers for North also were tied. Chris Anderson shot a 42, as did George Bartz.

South gridiron tickets $5

Season tickets for the four home football games at Granite City High School South now are on sale for $5 at the high school office.

The season tickets offer a $3 savings from the $2 per game fee which will be charged at the gate to those without season tickets.

The $5 season tickets also will be sold at the first home game Saturday where the Warriors meet Jefferson City, Mo.

Home games this year will begin at 7:30 p.m., rather than 8 p.m. start in past years. Ticket prices at the gate also have been increased. Student entrance this year is $1 and adults will pay $2.

Fish story by Null all true

Jon H. Null Sr., Granite City, caught fish totaling three pounds, seven ounces to capture sixth place and win $95 in the Mid-America Bass Fisherman's Association's late-August Carlie Invitational, the fifth of six regular tournaments in its Mid-Eastern Division, out of Keosauqua Harbor, Keosauqua, Ill., with 158 men from three states participating. The fishermen fought high winds and rough water all day. The conditions adversely affected fishing, and only 37 contestants were able to weigh in a bass.

However, John Ferguson of Dix, Ill., didn't let the conditions bother him, as he brought in a six-fish limit, weighing 15 pounds, 12 ounces, to top the field. Included in his catch was a 4-pound, 13-ounce largemouth that also gave him big bass honors. The double victory earned him $1,100 in cash and two trophies, as well as an automatic berth in the year-end tournament of champions.

Rainfall well above normal

Rainfall of 3.81 inches during August brought this year's total precipitation to 28.72 inches, thus far—or 4.43 inches above the normal fall of 24.29 inches for the first eight months of the year.

Two periods of heavy rainfall last month accounted for virtually all of the August precipitation. The first began on Aug. 8 and continued through Aug. 11, a period in which a total of 1.81 inches of precipitation was recorded.

The second occurred Aug. 24 during a severe rain and electrical storm in which 1.70 inches of rain fell in a brief period of about 45 minutes.

Weather records show that 71 of an inch of rain fell on Aug. 8, followed by 15 of an inch recorded on Aug. 9, another 30 of an inch on Aug. 10 and 40 of an inch on Aug. 11, for the four-day total of 1.81 inches.

Rainfall also was recorded during the month on Aug. 21 with .65 of an inch, and on Aug. 29 when .25 of an inch of rain fell.

The total precipitation for the month was .79 of an inch above the August normal rainfall of 3.02 inches.

Records show that monthly rainfall has been below normal in only two months so far this year—January and April. In the other six months, precipitation in one month was the same as the normal, and rainfall in the remaining five exceeded the normal.

April recorded the lightest rainfall of any month this year, only .70 of an inch as compared to a normal 3.71 inches. The January fall was 1.02 inches in contrast to a normal of 1.98 inches.

February precipitation measured 2.04 inches, exactly the same as the normal. Two months this year have recorded more than six inches each. In March, total rainfall amounted to 6.72 inches with a normal of 2.34 inches, and in June total precipitation was 6.66 inches, with normal at 4.27 inches.

Precipitation of 4.40 inches was recorded in May—normal 3.73 inches—and in July 3.57 inches of rain fell with a normal of 3.20 inches.

Seek 'emergency' foster parents

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Service is recruiting specialized foster parents to act as emergency foster homes for department wards between the ages of birth and 18.

Emergency homes care for children on a short-term basis until longer-term foster homes are available or until the children can return home.

"Emergency foster parents deal with a lot of stress," according to Eva Fromme of the department's Resource Development Team. "They are expected to accept all kids referred on a 24-hour basis and to keep them for up to 30 days."

Specialized emergency foster parents are required to cope with a constant turnover of children. "Some may care for up to 80 kids in one year," she said.

Recognizing that emergency foster care is a difficult task, the department pays emergency foster parents $100 per month for each available bed space in the home. This amount is paid whether or not a child is currently using the space and is in addition to a boarding fee of up to $150 per month that is paid for each child.

The department also pays the cost of medical, dental and pharmaceutical services for its wards.

Quadr-Cityans wanting more information about the department or its programs may call Eva Fromme of the Granite City Field Office at 875-5885, she reported.

MICHAEL ALLEN

Selected for communications

Airman Michael W. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Allen, 2200 Robert Ave., has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland AFB, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned the individual a degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Allen will now receive specialized training in the communications field.

The airman, a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School, received a bachelor of science degree from Southern Illinois University in 1975.

His wife, Christal, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tasso of Alton.

Highway overtime Chouteau issue

The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees has been informed by letter that two former highway department employees have engaged an attorney to attempt to collect about 94 hours of overtime pay the board has refused to pay.

The letter from attorney Leon Scroggins also contended each employee is due two weeks of vacation time. The employees worked under former Highway Commissioner James Este, but failed to return to work when Highway Commissioner Wilfred "Bud" Eberhardt took office.

Eberhardt told the board there had been no agreement between Este and his employees on vacations and he did not feel the workers are entitled to vacation pay.

Town Clerk Patricia Polley said the workers are claiming 94 hours of overtime each during the period from December to February and said the overtime slips were not turned in until the end of April, after the township election.

She also contended some of the slips claimed the employees worked more than 24 hours per day on some days.

Trustee Steve Novosel noted none of the claims enclosed in Scroggins letter showed more than 24 hours per day, but alleged, "These have been altered."

Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks also opposed paying the overtime, saying, "If they thought they had time coming, they should have turned it in at that time. We were never advised of this until after Jim (Este) was out of office and there is nothing in his documents to show he approved this overtime."

The board agreed to turn the matter over to its attorney and Trustee Tommy Johnson stated, "Let them bring us to court."

College at-home offers 6 courses

The Open University Project at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer five courses in the humanities and one course in science and technology during the fall quarter, according to Andrea Patton, staff assistant.

Open University allows those who cannot attend regular classroom sessions to study at home and earn regular college credit.

"We're talking about a father who wants and perhaps needs a degree, but he works all day, a neighbor who started work right out of high school and says he would feel silly sitting there with all those kids, or a high school buddy who works swing shifts and never knows what week he could attend class," she said.

The program also may appeal to a woman who works and feels that night classes are out because she wants to spend time with her family. Or, a housewife who says her husband is the joy of her life, but if she doesn't talk to someone over three years old soon, she'll go crazy.

"All of these people have something in common. They want to go to college, but the circumstances of adulthood have prevented them from going," Miss Patton said.

Some class sessions are held on days and times designed to accommodate those who cannot attend conventionally-scheduled classes. Students meet with university faculty members to discuss material in texts and workbooks, and to view and hear films and tapes.

There also are regularly scheduled assignment workshops at which students may work together on study material and assignments.

Open University classes being offered during the fall quarter include: Technology Foundation (OUST 201-8), Humanities Foundation (OHHU 201-8), Social Sciences Foundation (OHHU 204-8), The City and The World (OHHU 321-8), The Age of Revolutions (OHHU 320-8) and Historical Data and the Social Sciences (OHHU 401-8).

Each course confers eight hours of college credit per quarter.

Technology Foundation (OUST 201-8) is a course in technology, not a course in technology. Students are introduced to the "what," "why" and "how" of technology, and not merely the "what."

The course examines the things people aspire to do with technology, the kind of thinking involved in its implementation, the limits to which it is subject, and its interactions with other fields of human activity.

Humanities Foundation (OHHU 201-8) is a beginning course for people interested in western history and cultural achievements. In addition to introducing students to basic disciplines, it also raises questions about possible relations between technological development, social organization, religion, thought and the arts.

Social Sciences Foundation (OHHU 204-8) brings together elements of sociology, economics, politics and psychology.

Current issues such as crime and unemployment are studied with respect to differing viewpoints of laymen and social scientists. The course analyzes society in terms of population and technology, communication and mobility, as well as discussing production and allocation of resources, work, social relations, beliefs and attitudes towards power.

The City and The World (OHHU 321-8) analyzes the characteristics of urban societies and the universal process of urbanization. It focuses on urban communities throughout the world and is designed to increase the student's academic understanding of the operation of the city as an evolving social institution.

The Age of Revolutions (OHHU 320-8) presents and explains some of the main developments in European history and thought in the age of the French, American and Industrial Revolutions, 1789-1848. Coursework includes an extensive study of social, political and economic changes and the applicability of the term "revolution."

Historical Data and the Social Sciences (OHHU 401-8) is a broad introduction to the methodology of the applied historical studies. The material covered in this course concerns application of historical data to the problems of social sciences.

The course may be of special interest to students of social science seeking to test their findings on more than contemporary materials, and to history students eager to learn more of the tools of social science and the ways in which they can extend their understanding of the past.

All high school graduates are eligible to enroll. However, before registering in Open University classes, students must make application for admission to the university and be accepted as a regular student.

Registration will be held in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center by appointment, Sept. 15 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. and on Sept. 16 from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Registration without an appointment (open registration) is scheduled for Sept. 19 and 20 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. Students who cannot go to the campus for registration may send someone with the necessary documents. Additional information concerning the Open University Project or admission procedures may be obtained by telephoning 89-2720.

Forecast of big upsurge in power needs proved accurate

The mid-summer months of 1977 proved accurate forecasts of electric demand and usage forecasts by Illinois Power Company, William C. Gerstner, executive vice-president of the company, said during the weekend in Decatur.

"In these times of rising energy costs, utility forecasting techniques, including those of Illinois Power, are frequently the objects of attack and criticism in various regulatory proceedings and by certain well-publicized groups," Gerstner said.

"Our customers are fortunate that we stick by our predictions, regardless of those attacks." The IP executive pointed out that weather and heavy usage in July and August of this year justified earlier company predictions and the construction programs carried on to meet those predictions.

"In the month of July alone, the 1976 peak demand was 2,846 megawatts, 16.7 per cent over the 1976 high. In fact, it was only 24 megawatts shy of the forecasted peak of 2,870 megawatts, which had been derided by those who seek to ignore or inhibit growth."

"If we followed their guidelines in planning we would have periods of shortages. It's that simple."

Usage figures (kilowatt-hour growth) also followed company predictions, Gerstner said. "Usage increased up to 14.3 per cent per 24-hour period. That mark was set on July 14. "Usage for the year is also up," he said, "presently running between nine and 10 per cent over 1976."

Houdini—they're not

After going to a residence in the Kirkpatrick Homes twice Thursday evening within a two-hour period to release a youngster who had locked himself in handcuffs, an officer decided to place the cuffs in protective custody for a while.

Accident or deliberately restraining oneself in locking devices was not confined solely to children last week.

Two other calls for help in releasing handcuffed persons were received by the Granite City Police Department.

In both instances, adult males had restrained themselves in the metal cuffs.

EXTERIOR COVERING of three sides of the Southwestern Steel Supply Co. at the Maers Industrial Park in Madison has been completed. The fourth side of the building has been left open to allow easy access to the inside of the building during construction. The $2 million plant is being constructed on eight acres of the industrial park and will employ approximately 85 persons when in operation.

Six sentenced in area crimes

Six persons have been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville in connection with Quad-City area crimes.

Samuel M. Nicola, 18, of 3002 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Leonard DeClue, 17, of Portland, Ore., formerly of Granite City, were sentenced in connection with a burglary June 22 at the home of Robert Niesporek, 2403 Iowa St.

Each was ordered to serve two years of probation and Nicola also was ordered to serve six months in the Madison County Jail.

Morris Kohn, 17, of the 2100 block of Grand Ave., was sentenced to serve one year of probation after pleading guilty to a misdemeanor count of theft.

He first was charged with robbery for allegedly showing a gun and taking about $70 cash from Dorthea Ebrecht at Ebrecht's Market, 2503 Washington Avenue, in February. That charge was reduced to theft.

Sharon Tyler, 19, of 2033 Fifth St., East Madison, was ordered to serve one year of probation after pleading guilty to burglary May 19 at the home of Wella Martin, 2342 Winters Drive.

Thomas Inman, 26, of Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, was sentenced to three months in the Madison County Jail and two years of probation after pleading guilty to unlawful delivery of cannabis.

He was among 37 persons arrested in late April after an undercover drug investigation by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGS).

Charges of unlawful delivery of a controlled substance filed in the same investigation against Herb Lyon, 30, Holiday Mobile Home Park, were dismissed.

Two years of probation and six months in the Madison County Jail was the sentence for Edward D. Bramon, 20, of 637 Barkley Ave., Mitchell, who pleaded guilty to burglary Dec. 14 at Doris' Cafe, 1820 State St.

Burglars hit two homes, take jewelry

Burglars used the same method of operation to break into two homes within a one-block area Saturday night, and took the same type of loot from both places.

Eugene Hoffman, 3333 Colgate Place, reported at 10:55 p.m. Saturday that his home had been broken into and thoroughly ransacked, although the only item taken was a jewelry box containing miscellaneous jewelry valued at about $150.

Police said the burglars broke a glass in a garage door to reach through and unlock the door. They then forced the door from the garage to the kitchen. A china cupboard was ransacked, as were the bedrooms where drawers were pulled out and clothing strewn about.

Less than an hour later, Wilbur L. Johnson, 3310 Princeton Drive, reported that his home had been entered and ransacked throughout. In that instance entry also was gained by breaking the glass in a garage door and then forcing the door into the kitchen.

There, the burglars took three jewelry boxes, one from each of the bedrooms, a set of sterling silverware and a small plastic wastebasket. Value of the missing items was estimated at $3,500.

Social security aid sessions

Representatives of the Social Security office will appear in Granite City twice monthly in October, November and December to assist area residents with applications and information.

An office representative will be at the Anchorage Recreation Hall, 2909 Edwards St., on the second and fourth Thursdays—Oct. 11 and 25; Nov. 8 and 22 and Dec. 13 and 27, beginning at 9:30 a.m. each day.

Participants must register by Sept. 16. For more information, Quad-City area residents may call Kathleen Sullivan Brown at 274-2750.

Large quantity of laundry gone

A large quantity of laundry was stolen from outside the home of Zelma Bone, 2004 W. 20th St., she reported Thursday. The items were hung on a fence at the side of the house and also from a front porch awning.

Stolen were 29 pair of men's and boys' blue jeans, five boys' shirts, one housecoat, four sweaters, nine tee-shirts, seven pairs of men's shorts, five pairs of women's slacks, and numerous towels, washcloths, dishcloths, pillow cases and socks.

Elaine Svezia honored

Elaine A. Svezia, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hank A. Svezia of Venice, has been selected as an "Outstanding Young Woman of America for 1977."

The award is given to young women in recognition of their personal and professional accomplishments.

Miss Svezia received a bachelor of arts degree, with honors, in anthropology from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in August 1975. Presently she is a graduate student at SIU at Carbondale in the Department of High Education, within the subfield of Community Junior College Teaching of Anthropology and Sociology.

At SIUC, Elaine is a member of the executive committee of the Women's Caucus and it was through this organization she was nominated for the award as an Outstanding Young Woman.

Ways to cut doctor bills

(American Medical Association)

The cost of treating a serious illness or accidental injury most often is unanticipated and always unwanted.

Often it is not included in the family financial plan and presents an extra expense on top of an already-tight budget.

Like all other living expenses, the price of medical treatment has risen in recent years.

But there are still a number of ways in which you can stretch your medical dollar and at the same time get better protection for yourself and your family.

Have a family doctor. He will keep a permanent record of your medical history, which may save duplicating many expensive and time-consuming tests. He will know your background and be better able to tell promptly if anything is wrong.

Don't wait too long. Many people try to save money on medical bills by not seeing the doctor until they are seriously ill. This not only defeats the purpose of preventive medicine, the only sound way to preserve health, but it also is more expensive in the long run.

Regular checkups. Early detection obviously offers a better chance to control and cure disease.

Go to the doctor's office.

House calls are not only more expensive, they also are less efficient. Without his office equipment and his trained staff, your physician cannot perform a complete examination. The doctor can give you better care, sooner and at less expense in his office.

Use the telephone. This not only saves money but also often makes good medical sense. A family doctor who has examined you regularly can sometimes advise you over the phone about minor health problems.

For anything that seems serious, he will ask you to come to his office to be examined.

Follow your doctor's orders. If you refuse to follow the advice you solicit and pay for, you are throwing your money away.

Buy health insurance. Health insurance is a bargain, considering the shattering effects on the family finances that prolonged illness can have. Buy as much as you can afford but especially protect yourself against the catastrophic expenses of serious illness.

Take allowable tax deductions. Doctor bills, hospital bills and drug costs not covered by insurance, and beyond a certain percentage of your income, may be claimed as deductions for tax purposes.

Traffic deaths up 25%

Traffic fatalities and the number of persons injured in Quad-City area traffic accidents increased during August over those of the same month a year ago, but the number of mishaps in which these deaths and injuries occurred changed only slightly.

Four persons died in traffic accidents in the area last month, an increase of two over August 1976. The statistics compiled by the Press-Record show that a total of 71 mishaps in which injuries occurred was recorded last month, or only three less than the 74 accidents resulting in personal injuries that occurred in August 1976. The statistics do not include accidents in which no one was injured.

In last month's personal injury accidents, a total of 113 persons was hurt, in contrast to 98 persons injured in 74 personal injury accidents occurring in August a year ago. The August traffic deaths, however, brought to 20 the total number of persons killed or fatally injured in mishaps during the first eight months of this year.

This is an increase of four, or 25 per cent, over 16 traffic deaths during the same period last year.

In contrast, however, is the total of 452 injury accidents occurring during the eight months of this year, down from 528 such accidents recorded during the same eight month period last year.

Records show that 684 persons were injured in the 452 personal injury accidents during the eight months of this year, compared with 769 persons injured in the 528 personal injury accidents reported during the same period last year.

The number of personal injury accidents, the number of persons injured and the number of fatalities, in that order during this year, were as follows: January 49-74-2; February 54-71-2; March 48-64-0; April 66-118-3; May 47-78-5; June 63-0-1; July 54-75-3; August 71-113-4.

September can be a profitable and enjoyable month for the home gardener. It's the time for making final plantings, harvesting crops, and preparing for next year's garden. A few highlights for the month are:

Plant some late season vegetables. With good fall growing conditions, there is time to plant and harvest snap beans (50-54 days), beets (32-38 days), leaf lettuce (45 days), radishes (22-25 days), spinach (37-45 days), and turnips (42-45 days).

Unfavorable growing conditions would either delay harvest or mean that a little seed and labor have been lost. Keep the tomato plants growing. Water, nutrients, and pesticides, especially those for disease control, are needed to keep healthy, fruitful tomato plants until frost. One or two sprays at 10-day intervals should be all that is needed if the water and soil fertility are maintained.

Harvest herbs. Cool, dry September days are ideal for drying leafy plants. Pick the leaves or stems when the dew is off the plant. Wash if the leaves are mud splattered. Otherwise, just tie the stems or plants in bundles of 10 to 12, and hang in an airy, warm, dry place.

Cut or kill weeds in the garden. Do this before they make seeds and you will have fewer weeds to fight next year. Don't rush the pumpkin harvest. Most pumpkins have turned orange and appear ready for picking. However, barring adverse weather conditions, the live vines in your garden are a better storage place than the porch or basement. Once the vines die, cut at the stem, and store in a cool, dry place.

Tip-plant black raspberries and thornless blackberries for plant increases. The growing tip of shoots can be covered with an inch or two of soil so that new plants will be available for planting next spring. Build up the compost pile with garden debris. All the spend plant material in the garden can be tossed into the compost pile for decomposition.

Pick apples when mature. This is usually when the ground or undercolor turns yellow or creamy. It is also about the time that stems of healthy fruits separate easily from the spur. For Southwestern Illinois, this period is early September for Jonathan, mid-September for Red Delicious, and late September for Golden Delicious.

Sow a green-manure crop. Rye, annual ryegrass, or oats are good crops to sow on vacant ground to give soil protection, smother weeds, and increase organic matter. Don't prune fruit trees. This is the time of the year that leaves are feeding the roots, so the only pruning that should be done is the removal of broken branches and limbs.

Watch for San Jose scale on fruit trees. If your fruits had small red spots on the skin or if you can see a gray scale on the twigs, mark the trees or area for extra thorough coverage with dormant spray next February. Verify peach borer control. Check peach trees at the soil line and in the crotch area for gumming that contains sawdust. The sawdust would indicate that borers are present and must be dug out with a knife or wire. No sawdust or gum means that trees should be healthy. Check pumpkins and squash for squash bugs. The grayish black bugs and nymphs feed on both fruits and vines and can destroy the crop. They tend to hide under the plant during the day, so lift up the vines to check for their presence. Carbaryl sprays should do some good.

R. F. Reeder Jr. earns honors

Ralph F. Reeder Jr., a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School, has earned a bachelor of science degree from the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana campus.

Reeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Reeder Sr., Glen Carbon, former GC resident, received his degree Magna Cum Laude with distinction in the field of biology.

The university has further awarded him James Scholar status and membership to the Beta Honor fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa.

Reeder is beginning studies at the Washington University School of Medicine in the Barnes Hospital Complex. He and his wife, Teddi, reside in St. Louis.

Governor aids National Guard recruit drive

Governor James R. Thompson has issued a proclamation in support of the current Illinois National Guard recruiting campaign.

He proclaimed the months of August and September as "Get Your Guard Up Months" in Illinois and urged support of efforts to maintain a strong and effective Illinois National Guard.

The two month recruiting campaign is being conducted by both the Army National Guard and Air National Guard throughout Illinois. The recruiting effort is designed to bring the Illinois National Guard back up to its total authorized strength.

Due to the large number of members completing their six-year obligation of military service during the past year, many National Guard units have dropped below authorized strength.

Lutheran Sunday school 'rally day'

The Rev. David Fielding, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., announced today that the congregation will observe a special "year of the Sunday school" from September of this year until next August. "Rally day" will launch the year this Sunday, Sept. 11.

He commented that the Sunday School has always been an important part of Hope's ministry, and noted that during the past ten years the number of school-age children in the nation has declined by approximately 10 per cent.

During this same period, Sunday school enrollments of major Protestant denominations have declined by 20 per cent to 60 per cent, he said, adding that some factors which might account for such a radical decrease in Sunday school participation include:

The high mobility of America's population, a decline of adult participation in the church, "bad press" the Sunday school may receive and its demoralizing effect on Sunday school workers increasing competition with the church on Sunday, and growing disenchantment with all forms of institutionalized activities.

"Yet," Pastor Fielding said, "the Sunday school remains our nation's primary agency for the teaching of moral and spiritual values to our young. Public schools rightly are forbidden to inculcate Christian beliefs.

"Unless our Sunday schools in all denominations are revitalized, we may raise a generation of atheistic, amoral citizens without the spiritual foundation to stabilize and guide them in their life. We can easily become a nation bereft of the civilizing influences of religion."

"Above all, we daily are reminded of the results of sin in our society. We all need not only to recognize the reality of evil in our world, but also need the accepting love of God as revealed through Jesus, and to be guided by His presence in our lives."

To observe the "year of the Sunday school," Hope Lutheran Church plans to evaluate current Sunday school ministry, improve the quality of the Sunday morning programs, and make a concerted effort to involve more people in Christian education.

Classes are offered for children and adults every Sunday at 9 a.m. On the Sept. 11 rally day, students will be promoted and teachers will be dedicated at the 8 and 10:30 a.m. services.

most progressive and fiscally conservative programs ever initiated in the office of the secretary of state.

During his first term as state treasurer, Dixon earned more than $360 million in interest for the state, 91 per cent more than any of his predecessors.

At the end of last year, the Dixon administration investments had earned $325.7 million — more money than the lottery, the horse racing tax, the corporate tax, the insurance tax or the liquor tax had produced for the state.

Prior to his election to state office in 1970, Dixon served 12 years in the Illinois House of Representatives and eight years in the Illinois Senate.

He was first elected police magistrate at the age of 21 in Belleville.

Dixon is a graduate of the University of Illinois and Washington University School of Law in St. Louis. He and his wife, Jody, are the parents of three children.

Homicide verdict

A coroner's jury in Granite City Thursday afternoon returned a verdict of homicide as the cause of death of Kenneth Siebert, 20, of 1152 Wanda St., Mitchell.

Mr. Siebert was shot in the abdomen in front of 2330 Iowa St., Sunday, Aug. 28.

Shock from severe hemorrhaging was the physical cause for death, preliminary autopsy reports showed, noting that a .45 caliber bullet entered his right side between two lower ribs and spun, causing extensive internal damage before exiting through his left hip.

Another bullet grazed his right arm.

Other injuries included a cut above his right eye sustained when he was struck by a beer can a short time before the shooting, and a broken left leg which was in a cast from a previous accident.

Five witnesses who were at 2330 Iowa St. were called to testify at the coroner's inquest. 'Four' pleaded the Fifth Amendment and declined to testify.

The only witness who testified was Charles Ringling, 20, of 2663 E. 23rd St., who drove Mr. Siebert to St. Elizabeth Hospital after the shooting.

Ringling was driving an auto and Mr. Siebert was getting into the passenger side of the car when shots were fired. Mr. Siebert said, "Oh God, no! Help me!" or words to that effect, Ringling told the coroner's jury. He said Mr. Siebert then fell over in the car seat into Ringling's lap and Ringling drove through yards to the hospital's emergency room.

Declining to testify were Susan Womack, Bobby and Carl Womack, and Janet Goeke.

Carl Womack had been charged with voluntary manslaughter in connection with the shooting.

Also testifying at the inquest was Granite City Detective Roy Koberna, who reviewed several reports, were read to the coroner's jury. They indicated a fight that when he interviewed witnesses, they didn't appear to be under the influence of liquor or drugs.

Statements made by several witnesses, as related in police reports, were read to the coroner's jury. They indicated a fight that when he interviewed witnesses, they didn't appear to be under the influence of liquor or drugs.

Steel

growth in steel production in Japan and the EEC than in the U.S.

Although not necessarily surprising, the slower growth of steel production in the U.S. and the United States' declining position relative to Japan and Europe nevertheless raises important questions about how far these trends will go—and how they affect the capacity of the domestic steel industry to meet the needs of the U.S. economy.

The validity of these questions is supported by two facts.

First, nations with modern, large-scale production facilities obtain significant cost advantages in steel production, and it is obviously easier to justify such facilities if a nation's steel industry is experiencing rapid growth.

Consequently, the slower growth of output in the U.S. has implications for the competitive position of the domestic steel industry relative to producers in Japan and Europe.

Second, the U.S. is the only industrial nation in the world which is a large and consistent importer of steel and which lacks the capacity to produce 100 per cent of its domestic steel requirements during periods of peak demand.

Japan and the EEC have accounted for over three-quarters of all U.S. imports since 1960.

Similarly, the U.S. market has been a primary outlet for Japanese and European exports.

During the late 1960s, for example, the U.S. absorbed between one-fourth and one-half of all exports from these areas.

Beginning in the early 1970s, there was a gradual decrease in the percentage of their total exports which Japan and the EEC directed to the U.S., owing primarily to the growth of other export markets which occurred in conjunction with voluntary restraints on exports to the U.S. on the part of producers in Japan and the EEC.

However, the absolute tonnage shipped to the U.S. has remained high.

Election law

staff members will discuss the allegations with County Clerk Evelyn Bowles and will assist in training poll judges and watchers.

Madison County Democrats see the board's decision as political in nature and assert that there is no pattern of voting improprieties, nor a high volume of such incidents.

County Republicans headed by Dr. Edward Ragdale filed a list of complaints after the election last fall with State Attorney Nicholas Byron and the state board, and contend that no GOP poll watchers were interviewed by the county.

Dr. Ragdale complained that Republican election watchers were harassed by Democratic candidate aides, voters' polling place, and one voting machine registered only Democratic votes for part of the day.

He said, "I think some of these things have been going on for years. The board's action goes a long way toward assuring we will have fair elections in the future."

Democrats note that the state's list of 16 includes the New 33rd Ward Regular Republican Club and the 7th Ward Regular GOP Club, both of Chicago, and the Young Republican Organization of Cook County.

Madison County residents recall a general election day two decades ago when Illinois state troopers parked their patrol cars at many Democratic-leaning polling places and the officers made their presence felt throughout the voting hours.

Depending on one's viewpoint, the troopers' action either intimidated non-voters or warned potential fraudulent voters against entering the polls.

It was noted that the order to the state police was issued by Governor William G. Stratton who "coincidentally" was among the candidates on that day's ballot.

The nine per cent limit on annual revenue growth, in effect, would favor inefficient hospitals while penalizing efficiently-run hospitals that have avoided excessive cost increases, it was contended.

LARGE WINDOW BROKEN

Dr. M. G. Baggot reported at 1:35 p.m. Friday that a picture window in the physician's offices at 3410 Nameoki Road was broken about 11:30 a.m. Police said the window appeared to have been knocked out with a shotgun blast. Judy Bridges, who works in the office, said she heard the sound of breaking glass and believed it to be from an accident on Nameoki Road. The broken window was discovered later. She said she heard no sounds of a shot.

Trade zone

trade zone because of its proximity to river, rail and highway transportation and because of intermodal shipping facilities already in operation.

Ranf is general manager of the Tri-City Regional Port District.

Besides Chairman Bellico, the Port Board currently includes Secretary William M. Ebersold and Commissioners Henry D. Karandjef, Harold R. Fischer, Burton Bernard and Lance Callis. There is one board vacancy.

Tri-City Port Development Manager George C. Andres, an aide to Ranft, has explained that a Foreign Trade Zone can increase a company's profitability.

"If your company is importing dutiable goods into the U.S., there is a good possibility that using a Foreign Trade Zone can improve profit margins through cash flow savings — by deferring payment of duty, in addition to a number of other cost-saving means."

"The Port District is in the process of establishing the zone to serve the Midwest and the St. Louis metropolitan area."

"The Port is strategically located with respect to Midwestern and St. Louis area markets."

"Excellent" transportation access by road, rail and river provides a shipper with modal alternatives. We have issued a leaflet which tells about foreign trade zones and what the advantages are.

"We would very much like to talk with interested firms about the Foreign Trade Zone, how it may be used and what the Port's plans are."

Ranf and Andres said the cost advantages of using a Foreign Trade Zone are believed to include:

1. "You can land and store imports or re-exports with customs worries, no duty, and no bond."

2. "Property is protected 24 hours a day under U.S. Customs security controls."

3. "You can take your time and wait for the best market conditions to buy or sell. You may store or exhibit goods indefinitely, duty-free. This also means you can fill orders on demand or by order."

4. "You may store goods in the zone, allowing you to import quotas are established in the zone."

5. "You can process your goods right in the zone, allowing possible lower duties or lower freight charges."

6. "You can manufacture your goods in the zone, leaving waste materials behind. You pay duty only on the saleable portion of the goods after manufacture. No duty is paid on exports."

7. "Space is available for manufacturing and processing. You can move machinery, equipment, labor and supplies into the zone for your purpose. Domestic and foreign components may be combined in manufacturing."

8. "You can save duty charges by discarding standard goods. And, you do not pay duty for shrinkage, evaporation, seepage, damage, accountants' loss, etc."

9. "You retain more operating capital. Since you do not pay duties until you import, your operating capital stays free longer. If you re-export, your money is never tied up with drawbacks."

10. "Cost savings result from the facilities for relabeling or re-marking improperly marked merchandise within the zone thus avoiding fines assessed on improperly marked goods reaching customs territory."

11. "You save on insurance. You pay only for value of goods insured, plus ocean freight — not plus duty and taxes."

12. "Warehouse receipts can be issued, enabling you to borrow on your goods stored in the Trade Zone."

Engine hit's car

A Collinsville man sustained a minor injury when the auto he was driving north on Edwardsville Road was struck by the engine of an Illinois Terminal Railroad train at 10:50 p.m. Thursday on the tracks near 14th Street.

James Hamilton, 21, said he failed to see the westbound train. The flashing signal lights were in operation, according to Norris Graham of Godfrey, train engineer, and the motorist.

Hamilton had a bruised area on the right shoulder, but x-rays proved negative and he was released from the hospital.

Terminal workers back; Injunction hearing set

About 750 members of the United Transportation Union who struck the Illinois Terminal Railroad's switching yards Thursday returned to work Saturday morning under a temporary restraining order issued Friday by U.S. District Judge Edward L. Filippine.

A hearing is set for Wednesday in St. Louis on whether the temporary order should be made a permanent injunction barring a strike. A spokesman for the UTU said the strike was called due to recent switches in some runs ordered by the railroad without notifying the union. He contended the switches caused the transferring of some employees, thus affecting their seniority status.

Pickets were established at all TTRR yards, including the Madison yards.

Full implementation of the Youth Unemployment and Demonstration Project Act is scheduled for Oct. 1. It is intended to achieve participation by a fourth of currently unemployed black youths and one-seventh of jobless white youths.

Foreign trade zone can be a boon to community, region

Today, Sept. 6, 1977, is a "red letter day" in Quad-City history, thanks to announcement that the U. S. Foreign Trade Zones Board has designated a 47-acre site here as a foreign trade zone. It will be administered by the Tri-City Regional Port District.

By definition of the U. S. Department of Commerce, a foreign trade zone is an isolated, enclosed and policed area, under the supervision of a designated board of federal officials, operated as a public utility by a corporation, either private or public.

It is in or adjacent to a port of entry, without resident population furnished with the necessary facilities for loading, unloading, for storing goods, and for reshipping them. It is an area into which goods may be brought, stored, subjected to certain specified manipulation operations, and be manufactured or exhibited.

Its basic purpose is to encourage and facilitate international commerce. For international businessmen, it is a cost-saving facility and tool.

Serving the St. Louis metropolitan area, the new zone will be located at the Tri-City Port, a growing intermodal transportation center.

The Port District provides a full service river port facility for containerized freight, general cargo, bulk liquid and dry bulk shipments.

They would then inform the occupants of the highway system for local and long distance movements, plus railroad connections with ocean ports.

General public warehousing will be available in the Tri-City Foreign Trade Zone. Private warehousing, and manufacturing space will be available or built to specific needs.

Special purpose zones and sub-zones can be established in existing business facilities or on land available at the Tri-City Port upon approval of the new Foreign Trade Zone's board.

Youth drive to curb energy use could threaten privacy

The White House is far off base in its proposal to have teenagers in each neighborhood check up on the extent of energy waste.

As the American Civil Liberties Union said Thursday, the plan threatens "the privacy of every individual in the United States." It is unpleasantly reminiscent of old Nazi and Communist programs in which young people were turned against their peers and their elders.

The proposal involves young people going house-to-house, checking for possible energy wastes outside the home. They would then inform the occupants of their findings and offer to inspect the interior of the home, all of which sounds harmless enough.

But Kenneth Choinier, an ACLU spokesman, says that while the program appears to be noble "in practice it would be an insidious form of governmental surveillance of a free society."

Skilled workers built nation, preserved it during crises

Message by President Jimmy Carter — On Labor Day, our nation salutes the decency, grit and determination of the American working man and woman.

The sweat and skill of American workers built this country and preserved it through wars and crises. Today, workers and their organizations are giving strong support to the national effort to restore our economy's health.

This is in the finest tradition of organized labor, which has served not just its own members but all people through its century-long struggle for social and economic justice.

Let us affirm our determination to build a future together in which all of us can enjoy the blessings of a more equitable and humane society.

Conjecture ended about '78 Congressional race outcome

As disclosed here a few weeks ago, Congressman Melvin Price intends to seek an 18th two-year term. Because the legislative leaders traditionally have primary and general voting by wide margins, his decision would appear to end any speculation about the outcome.

Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Mr. Price has won consecutive terms since being elected to Congress in 1964. His health has improved markedly since surgery this year.

'Either-or' hampers the handicapped

To the Editor:

In addition to their actual limitations, handicapped people are affected by a hidden condition called "either-or"ism.

Since I've had my own disabilities from birth, all phases of my life have been touched by it. When I was a baby, my parents wondered, "Is he sick or not?"

Other questions followed quickly: "Is he intelligent or not?" "Will he ever walk or not?"

"Will he grow up to become a useful person or not?"

As I matured, I began asking "either-or" questions myself. "Will I be able to get an education or not?" "Will I ever get a job or not?" "Will I ever get married or not?"

As an adult with multiple disabilities, I've learned that there are many "either-or" questions in life but few "either-or" answers.

For example, I never walked, but I am able to get about in a wheelchair. My speech, though never normal, but I have learned to communicate with many people, and even make my living that way.

It's not possible for me to prepare a regular meal, but I haven't gone hungry in the three years I've lived alone.

Now that America is beginning to rehabilitate more severely disabled people, the question of "either-or"ism takes on great significance.

For many years, rehabilitation professionals and the general public alike have separated the handicapped into two groups—those who could be rehabilitated and those who could not.

Once classified as hopeless, an individual had little or no way to improve his status.

This is changing, in large part because the 1973 Rehabilitation Act requires that each person be reevaluated periodically in light of both his personal progress and society's advances in services and technology.

"Either-or"ism has been particularly damaging in the area of employment.

Employers have too often made snap judgments: "this or that" type of handicapped person cannot do a job.

The emerging field of job mediation, along with the federal government's requirement that its contractors take affirmative action to hire handicapped people, beginning to make a difference. But we still have a long way to go.

"Either-or"ism is by no means limited to employment. Until only recently it was thought that disabled persons either required complete institutionalization or that they should be able to function without any assistance at all.

We are slowly realizing that disabled people need many different levels of care and support.

The question should not be whether a handicapped person can live independently or not, but rather the degree of independence he can achieve.

There are no easy solutions. The most effective approach seems to be a realistic assessment of our limitations—not so we resign ourselves to doing nothing, but so we develop alternatives that enable us to move beyond our apparent limits.

For example, when I thought journalism meant employment with a radio station or a newspaper, my physical limitations made it impossible. Now, after long years of bitter frustration, I can accept my dependence as a writer on an electric typewriter and secretarial assistance.

Though I can't even go across town by myself, I can use the media and print materials to bring the world to me.

For handicapped people it need not be "either a fulltime job or economic helplessness." It's not necessary to reconcile oneself to institutionalization merely because complete independence is beyond one's capacity.

There are options. Sheltered workshops and home training programs, live-in or part-time employment, and group homes—these only suggest the possibilities.

While it's not enough for handicapped people to overcome their own self-imposed "either-or"ism, the problem affects all of society and the solution must involve all of society.

Parents, employers, rehabilitation professionals, educators—all of these groups must come to realize that life is not an "either-or" question, particularly for the disabled.

Then, as we all—handicapped and nonhandicapped alike—look realistically at what is, and move to what we can, we'll escape the trap of "either-or"ism.

Collision heat terrifies al pilots

By KEN HUDSON

"Midair" Hated word. It makes the skin crawl. It means two airplanes ran into each other in the sky.

There were 20 last year in the country. Almost all of them were light, privately owned aircraft. Some were military. Rarely does it happen with commercial airliners.

But there are near misses, 371 reported last year. People in aviation believe that many more go unreported.

An electronic gadget called a transponder, required on all commercial aircraft but optional on private planes, reduces the number of near misses and midair collisions.

It was hazy over Los Angeles just before noon on a recent Friday when a student pilot on a solo flight suddenly saw PSN Flight 90 in front of him, an Electra four-engine passenger plane carrying 90 passengers from Lake Tahoe to Los Angeles International Airport.

The student pilot did what he was supposed to do — he turned to avoid a collision, pulled back on the wheel and started climbing.

At almost the same instant, the copilot of the Electra saw the small red and white Cessna and did what he was supposed to do — he slammed the wheel forward, sending the airliner into a steep dive.

It's called evasive action. There was no midair. There was a near miss, or near hit. How close is near?

"Distances in the air are pretty speculative — it's pretty hard to judge," Allen Crawford of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) said later.

In the cabin of the Electra, things that weren't tied down went flying, including some of the passengers.

There were 26 initial injury reports filed out, 14 were taken to the hospital and almost all were treated and released immediately. Two were kept in the hospital for a couple of days and then released.

The student pilot had not done anything wrong, according to preliminary findings of the NTSB.

He was not in the wrong place at the wrong time. Neither was the PSA pilot. At that place and that altitude, pilots are to keep their eyes open — to see and be seen.

Immediately after the incident, the PSA pilot, Capt. Ronald Barton, asked the Federal Aviation Administration air traffic controllers to identify the light plane.

The air traffic controllers couldn't do it. They could not find the small airplane on their radar screens.

Radar screens use electronic impulses which strike an object in the air, such as an airplane. The plane acts as a mirror, reflecting the impulse back to the air traffic controllers.

If the aircraft has a transponder, the radar impulse automatically triggers the instrument to respond, telling the air traffic controller in code not only what it is but the direction it is going and its altitude.

It all happens in microseconds, said Vodorov. The little blip of light on the air traffic controller's screen is many times brighter than the blip of an airplane that does not have a transponder.

If an aircraft without a transponder is at a certain angle to the radar impulse, sometimes the radar misses it altogether.

During an investigation by Fred Beam, NTSB, the student pilot said he was aware of the transponder on the plane but he forgot to turn it on.

"We wish every plane in the sky had a transponder — all of them turned on," said Beam.

In areas like Los Angeles, where the density of aircraft is great, transponders are required at certain altitudes. That way the air traffic controllers know what's going on in the air in the particular sector they are assigned to watch.

Had it been turned on, the air traffic controllers would have spotted the Cessna and directed one or the other plane onto a course where there was no danger.

Use of transponders is encouraged by most of those in the aviation business because it is a significant factor in air safety.

The Cessna in the near miss with the PSA Electra over Los Angeles was not required at its altitude to be using a transponder — but it would have helped.

EXECUTING DECAL TRANSFER with a hot iron is John Werner at the Shoppe of Shirts, 2550 Grand Ave. The first business of its kind in the Quad-City area, the shop offers a wide variety of decorative decals to interest any age level and may be ready for the customer in a matter of minutes.

WALL OF DECALS displayed at the Shoppe of Shirts, 2550 Grand Ave., owned and operated by Mrs. Barbara Werner. She is assisted in the venture by her son, John Werner. They offer 180 different decals as well as shirts, bags, belts, jewelry, transfer numbers and letters at the store, which opened in July. (Press-Record Photo)

Decal shirts a growing fad

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

"Have a hobby or a slogan that you want to express in a special way? Then a visit to the Shoppe of Shirts, 2550 Grand Ave., may be the answer for your individual interest.

There are 180 decals exhibited on the walls of the shop for customer selection, and any of these can be transferred to a cotton shirt in a few minutes with a hot-iron technique.

The display includes a variety of expressions, cartoon characters, pictures of movie and television stars and whimsical caricatures.

Mrs. Barbara Werner opened the business in July on a part-time basis, being open to the public on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons only.

She now has inaugurated a regular schedule of hours with the shop open Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m., and on Saturday from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

She is assisted in the enterprise by her son, John, who is a senior at South High School.

"This is almost a family affair now as my two daughters, Michelle, 13, and Stephanie, 8, help out at the shop by folding shirts and filing decals as new orders are delivered," Mrs. Werner said.

"I started with 103 decals and have added more each week to reach 180 now in stock, and I will continue to select a variety of subjects to satisfy customer requests, she added.

The process is simple to execute and only takes minutes to complete the transfer of the decal to a cotton shirt. The hot-iron technique imprints the decal in the fabric of the shirt. It will last the lifetime of the shirt with proper washing care.

At present, all the shirts in stock are short-sleeved but with the fall and winter months approaching, Mrs. Werner plans to purchase long-sleeved polo shirts and football jerseys in several colors.

The younger children and teen-agers are highly interested in the new establishment and have selected as the most popular decal a horse with the sunset in the background, according to the owner.

Transfers are available for any age-level and to please the younger set there are decals of Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse, Raggedy Ann and Andy, a large green frog and many others.

For the movie and television fans the shop features pictures of Charlie's Angels, the Million Dollar Man, the Marx Brothers, popular singing stars and musical groups.

There also are numerous cartoon-type decals and record album covers as well as emblems and comic expressions.

John Werner also has a fix-it shop in the back of the establishment where he works on reconditioning bicycles in his "spare" time to add to his business venture.

The confectionery and store next door, known as Schewe's Corner Confectionery, is owned and operated by Edward and Barbara Werner.

If you are looking for a special gift, something different or a personal reflection for yourself, the Shoppe of Shirts on the corner of 26th Street and Grand Avenue may have the answer.

Other items featured at the store are bags, belts, jewelry and transfer numbers and letters. The decals may be purchased for $1, calico letters for 20 cents and plain color numbers for 15 cents.

Raise $1,500 in ERA Walk-A-Thon

More than $1,500 raised from the "Walk-A-Thon" last week, sponsored by the Metro-East Chapter, National Organization for Women (NOW), will be used by NOW to aid in the final push for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

Terri K. Theis of Granite City collected the most money ($178) in the walking project and received a 10-speed bicycle.

Forty-three walkers finished the 10-mile course laid out through the city of Edwardsville. Similar walks took place across the nation, including others in the metropolitan St. Louis region.

"I can't think of a better way to spend my birthday morning than to kick off a rally for ERA," State Representative Jim McPike (D-Alton) said at the opening rally, immediately before the walk started.

"I represent one vote for ERA in Springfield and I urge you to write to other local representatives, especially the two in this area, and show your support for ERA," he told the men and women assembled for the walk-a-thon.

Liz Neeley, ERA Walk-A-Thon chairman and vice president of Metro-East NOW, said "We are very pleased with the turnout. In addition to the money raised, we also gained some new people in our support of the Equal Rights Amendment."

"This has begun our final battle for ERA ratification in Illinois," she stressed. Carrying signs in support of ERA through Edwardsville, the walkers made two rest stops and also took a break for lunch, completing the walk about 2:30 p.m. at the Edwardsville High School where refreshments were served.

Other prizes awarded those raising the most funds for the ERA project received gift certificates and special tee-shirts, Miss Neeley said.

It was announced that two new ERA offices are now located in Madison County. One is at 2145 Pontoon Road and the other is in Alton.

Miss Neeley said ERA supporters are being asked to contact the office staffs and volunteer their services in behalf of the ERA ratification program.
